Benalla P-12 College recently hosted the Tertiary Information Service (TIS) Day for all Year Twelve students.

The TIS day is organised by a cooperative of University, TAFE institutes and Independent Tertiary Colleges. It aims to provide a comprehensive program of advice regarding tertiary study options to Year Twelve students.

Students met with speakers from Monash and Charles Sturt Universities that spoke about the application process, special requirements and courses available. Students were given valuable information about student accommodation, transition issues and costs associated with tertiary study, the differences between University and TAFE and scholarships and the SEAS application.

Students then had the opportunity to visit an Expo set up in the ECA centre at the Barkly Street Campus where representatives from 14 Universities, TAFEs and Private Institutions were available to discuss careers and course content, and students were able to collect specific course information.

Teacher and Career Coordinator Ann Forster said “I congratulate the students who were attentive during the presentation and made good use of this opportunity as they begin to understand the application process and collect information for accommodation and scholarships. The next opportunity to ask questions and continue this process will be the VTAC Parents Briefing which will be held at the PAC Faithfull campus on 5 August at 7pm and we urge all parents to attend”.
